Rowdy Play Picked As Playhouse Finale

"Many people think all Shakespearean work is too heavy to be enjoyable," according to Mr. Hal Ulrici, drama instructor. "However, 'Taming of the Shrew,' next presentation of the Hartnell College-Community Playhouse, is an entirely different type; it's a farce comedy, one of the best ever written. It has delighted millions of theatergoers all over the world, since its initial production around 1600."

"Taming of the Shrew" takes place in Renaissance Italy with the dress of the period. Many of the scenes are enacted in Padua and in Petruchio's country home there. Much of the action is built around Petruchio's belting the belligerent Katherine and vice versa.

In order to fill the cast three men or women are still needed to play small roles as servants to Petruchio. These comedy parts are found in one scene.

A tentative schedule of performances calls for the production to open Thursday, May 26, and run through Saturday, May 28. All performances will start at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Due to the elaborate scenery on stage and the moving problems involved, the production will not be televised.

The presentation will climax the Festival of Arts series of events, a part of the "Hartnell Presents" program providing education and entertainment to students and community members.

One of the largest audiences to attend the film series at Hartnell saw "The Titan," the story of Michelangelo, on Monday evening. The film was a classic documentary on the work and life of Michelangelo. This is considered to be one of the finest art films available, said Dr. Howard Feder, faculty adviser for the series.

The next film will be shown today at noon in the Little Theatre and at 7:30 in the Student Union lounge. The film is "Wee Geordie," the story of a small Scottish boy who is ashamed of his size. He reads exercise books and exercises until he becomes very large.

Prom Bids on Sale; Price Set at $6.00

Bids went on sale this week for the first formal event of the semester, the Spring Prom. Bids are $6 and include admission to the Aptos Beach Inn, dinner, and dancing.

Theme for the prom is "Fantasy in Blue." Students will dance from 9 to 2 at the majestic Spanish-styled Aptos Beach Inn, perched on a cliff overlooking the ocean, with music furnished by the Aptos Beach Combo.

Committees for the event are Sue Patton, over-all chairman; Mary Jo Sparks, Kathy Fleming, Virginia Hayes, and Sandy Cooper, decorations; Miss Patton and Pat Kerns, entertainment.

Bid committee includes Tracy Albertson, chairman; Kay Kezeli, Sharon Zook, and Audrey Boutte. Carrie Grader will handle publicity for the affair. Volunteer help from the student body is needed to assist the committees in assuring a successful dance, said Miss Patton.

■ Practicing fervently in an attempt to surpass the Frosh Cavalcade which was enjoyed by the student body earlier in the year are sophomores Gary Hudson, Gloria Everly, Diane Byers, and Judy Lucas. Hudson will be master of ceremonies for the gala affair today in the men's gym during college hour while the women are all performers.

Sophs Plan to Tap Frosh in Talent Show

Under the direction of Judy Lucas, sophomores at the assembly today will present a talent show in an attempt to surpass the Frosh Cavalcade.

The second-year men will make public their talents on April 22 at the assembly in the men's gym.

Affairs Council Invites Public

Salinas World Affairs Council invites the public to view free of charge the first feature-length film to deal with the idea and purposes of the United Nations, "Power Among Men." It will be shown on April 26, 8 p.m., Washington Junior High School Auditorium.

Theme of the movie centers about two forces which co-exist in mankind: power to build and the power to destroy. "Power Among Men" shows the United Nations helping to rebuild a war-torn town in Italy, replenish underprivileged farmers in Haiti, harness water power in Canada, and use atomic power for peaceful purposes in Norway.

All actors are amateurs, but the production and technical aspects are professional. The 90-minute color film is produced by Thorold Dickinson, noted British film-maker.

Master of ceremonies is Gary Hudson, who will introduce to the student body Diana Byers doing a modern dance tango; Gloria Everly singing "Tenderly"; a jazz combo made up of Mike Pritchard, Bill Stretch, Dan Edwards and Dave Satre.

Other acts will be a calypso group, consisting of Tom Whitney, Oscar Allen and Kirk Young. Featured in a duet will be Judy Lucas and Maynard Potter. Also being considered for the show is the quartet that was presented in the Frosh Cavalcade, which consisted of Doug Edwards, Ellis Wheeler, Janet Woodward and Korea.

Featured along with the sophomores' talent will be wild commercials and a slapstick comedy.

Public Schools To Be Guests

Hartnell will observe the nationwide Public Schools Week, April 25 to 29. All classes will be open Monday through Friday for the public visit from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Day classes will be open Monday through Friday, with extended day classes open Monday through Thursday.

National public schools week is sponsored by the Masonic Lodges throughout the country to commemorate George Washington and Thomas Jefferson and others of our founding fathers who first inspired public education.

During the coming week various high schools in the Hartnell area have planned visits to Hartnell to acquaint themselves with the workings of a junior college.

Band to Perform For K.C. Studes

The Hartnell College Band will travel to King City Tuesday, April 26 to present a band concert to the student body of King City High School.

Getting Into the Swing of Spring

■ Climbing the ladder of success, members of the Newman Club spread the word about the "Spring Swing" dance being sponsored by the organization tomorrow night at the Student Union. Shown here from the top rung to the bottom, not necessarily in order of their success, are Cipy Insular, Loraine Bell, LeRoy Strong, Bea Charette and Sherry Conrow.

Newman Club Sponsors "Spring Swing" Tomorrow

Ushering in the spring season is the Newman Club's delightful "Spring Swing" tomorrow night from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Hartnell College Student Union.

Decorations will be large musical notes and pastel shades of crepe paper flowers to provide an appropriate spring-time motif. Feature centerpiece will be a life-size swing decorated in shades of the rainbow. Students will be able to have their pictures taken on the swing at the cost of 50 cents per picture. The photographer will use a polaroid camera for quick development.

Unique type of swing music will be provided by the 12-piece "Kingsmen" dance band, of which several Hartnell student musicians are members.

Seminar Held for Disaster Training

A mock earthquake and explosion causing hundreds of casualties who had to be cared for set the stage for the disaster seminar-workshop held at Hartnell over the Easter holiday.

The seminar, which was designed to educate the public and give medical and nursing personnel training in disaster work, was coordinated by the county health department, Red Cross, district nurse's associations, Monterey County Medical Society, local civil defense officials and the state disaster office.

In the mornings of both days seminars were held. Col. R. S. Brown, and Dr. Cecil H. Goggins, both of the California Disaster Office, spoke of the psychological reactions to a major disaster and radiation.

Dr. Richard Still, of the Monterey County Medical Society, spoke on triage, which is the sorting of casualties, while Richard Gordon of the Red Cross, and Avis Axelson, nurse consultant of the California disaster office, discussed medical and nursing responsibilities during a disaster.

In the afternoons, physicians, nurses, hospital personnel and other interested persons viewed the workshops of first aid treatment, triage (sorting of casualties), decontamination treatment, and general hospital services.

Approximately 100 soldiers from the twelfth evacuation hospital at Fort Ord acted as volunteer patients.

Editorial

Carnival Is Cancelled

The Interclub Council Carnival, which many students have been looking forward to, will not be presented this spring. Maynard Potter, chairman of the carnival committee, said that there was not enough interest to warrant the carnival. There seems to be no interest on the part of the committee to stimulate the students! Last year's carnival was a great success and this year's could be also; however, there was no publicity on the affair. Most of the student body did not even know that there were plans for the ICC Carnival. How could they be interested if they knew nothing about the plans? The carnival followed by a carnival dance was to be held on April 29.

Panther Gets New Coat

During the week preceding the Easter vacation, Hartnell's panther was once more painted. What did it prove? For one thing it proved the painter's immaturity. There seemed to be no logical reason behind the action other than an attempt to degrade the school by defacing the panther with yellow paint. The painter had no artistic ability seemingly because the paint was allowed to flow freely off the back of the mascot directly from the can. I certainly hope the artist was not a Hartnell student.

Semester Almost Finished

Eight more weeks of school? That's how it seems. Graduation will be June 15. Actual class meetings are for less time because of finals June 6 to 15. I seems he semester has flown. With the coming of spring, many of us have neglected studies for more inviting times in the sun and on the beach. The home stretch of the semester now confronts us and we must all get busy and catch up or be caught up in the whirl of finals unprepared to meet our doom—low grades or no credit!

Wondering Ei

Method to Madness . . . One down and seven to go till the term paper and finals ratrace. (Vot else vud you call 'em, dollink?) But first we gotta meet that Daylight Savings Time deadline . . . next Monday to be sure. My system, for what it's worth, is to go to bed by the new rules (DST) and get up by the old (Pacific Standard. Trust all 8 a.m. instructors are on this same schedule.

A Dish Fit for the Gods . . . Wow for luau! Only one more month for THE big splash. Meantime, the campus is being canvassed for King Luau, and you better believe that no queen contest was ever like this. A whole lot of Hawaii is the feature—for a mere 50 cents—and they say some 400 are expected. Gregg "Emu" Sanchez is gonna roast a 250-pounder a la Royal Hawaiian. Good opportunity for all Hartnellites to live high on the hog.

Merry As the Day Is Long . . . Big deal on by the Newman Club tomorrow eve, starting at 9. In keeping with their theme of ushering in spring with a swing, co-chairmen Sherry Conrow, Patti Vaccaro, Bea Charette, Lorraine Bell and LeRoy Strong have the doings to transform the Student Union into the springiest of atmospheres, while the King's Men (all 12 of them) will be the swingy tunemasters. Casual dress is the order. And to capture the evening for all time, Roger Bell will be polaroiding.

A Nine Days' Wonder . . . Latecomers to the campus club scene, the Rodeo-ites are losing no time getting activities in high gear. A bring-your-own-steak barbecue is on the agenda for Wednesday, the 27th, out at the Sheriff's Posse Grounds in North Salinas. Prez Leo Bond sez there'll be a 25-cent charge to cover the cost of other goodies. And close on the heels of this event, on the 29th, the club will be attending the

Cowboy Movies
Irritate Reporter

By Ron Thompson

If there is anything that irritates me more than the cowboy hero shooting two Indians with one bullet, or who can shoot any number of bullets out of his "six-shooter" while the bad guy only has six bullets in his, I don't know what it is. Of course, I don't mean to imply that all westerns are this way; many top productions, based on the western theme, have been made.

It's just that westerns are easier and faster to make, and this is what takes the realness out of them. Situations develop and happen so fast in the film that quality is often lost in the plot. The same thing shows up with the western stories that are written for television, because of the length of time, which is usually 30 minutes, the writer's can't go into any great detail.

The only way writers can make up for this is by having a higher quality of actors and actresses in the movie. Good performers cost more, and if the finances behind the production are limited, what are the movie makers going to do?

NEWMAN . . .

(Continued From Page 1) will be available during the evening. Cost of admission is 50 cents singles and 75 cents couples. According to Pat Vaccaro, the club members have been working hard to make the dance a success and fun for everyone.

Poly Royal at San Luis Obispo en Masse.

Like Patience on a Monument sat journalism director Paul Johnson on that never-to-be-forgotten Friday before Easter vacash, the last of La Reata deadlines. He kept muttering over in his corner, "They're gonna make it. Surely they'll make it. They'll make it?" Meantime, everyone else was on the verge of hysteria. . . . Editor Chuck Allen scurrying around like the proverbial chicken . . . to Fred Harris, who kept yelling at photographer Ron Thompson, "Where's that picture of the coach?" . . . to Vi Shiratsuki, who squeaked, "Is this all right?" . . . to red-haired Ron

It Was Work . . .

When La Reata comes out in the middle of May, I know a lot of you are going to open the bright maroon and white (yes, I know those are MPC's colors) covers and scream, "Ghaa-a-a," is this all we get, don't even see my picture . . . Ghaa-a-a."

But before you let off steam and start burbling odd and mean phrases, let me tell you this much: the staff of La Reata was not organized until after the start of the second semester; no work was done the first semester so the work was heaved on the shoulders of a few who had to work like mad to get the annual together. Yes, there was a lot of screaming, hair pulling and name calling during those afternoons but now, I believe, all is forgiven and we're all holding our breaths for the glance of the proofs to come any minute. So please appreciate your yearbook and realize the work that went into it. He hope you like it.

Grand Canyon . . . Hole of Fame.

Why Not?

While glancing through several campus papers, I spied an activity guaranteed to put more spring into Spring. . . . It is an activity known as the "Ugly Man on Campus" contest. Now I am not exactly saying that there are a lot of ugly men on our campus; it is all staged for fun and laughter. Ugly men, mediocre men, funny men, sad men, and handsome men, sponsored by a club or such, perform stunts, campaign schemes, etc., to urge people to vote for the "ugly one," who in turn gets an appropriate crown at a dance and is presented with the traditional corsage . . . a bunch of fresh-picked radishes. How does that sound? It can't be staged this year but think about it for next year.

New Faces . . .

Not many, just one . . . that of our new football coach and P.E. instructor, Mr. Arvin Smith, formerly of my old alma mater, Salinas High. You can all take away that curtain of doubt as to whether he will do a good job or not because he has always been known to do his best and his best is the result of determination, talent and knowledge. He did a terrific job as coach of the "Cowboys" and I'm sure he'll be just as good here. Anyway, to you, Coach Smith, a big warm welcome from the Sentinel staff; we know you will get to like Hartnell a lot.

Dr. Braverman: "What was the There's another story missing." . . . to Judy Wong, whose famous last words were, "What'd'ya want ME to do?" . . . to calm, cool and collected Audrey Boutte and Ei, who sat at smoking typewriters. And when it was ended, there fell upon the snake pit an air of complacency . . . played to the tune of "Never Again."

The Glass of Fashion . . . were San Jose State-men Vern Horton and Bill Riddle in their Hartnell jackets, as they rode down Main Street with Leroy Miller at the wheel of the Jeep. The former gridmen are baching with Jim Gregory, who also was home for the holidays.

Roller Derby Sees Increase in Fame

By Sam LoBue

Sports are a great measure of entertainment and enjoyment. To watch the "bowls" during the New Year holidays; the Wednesday and Friday night fights. The college basketball games (too bad the Bears tipped the bucket). . . . ah, this is truly the relaxations of life.

Still in the field of sports, roaring around the track with incredible speed, is a new and more exciting entertainment; yes, sir, by now you've guessed, it's the roller derby.

The roller derby, and I quote from the announcer, "has the skill of hockey and the roughness of football."

Roller derby has been out for quite a long, long time, and has always fascinated my desires of entertainment. For roller derby is packed with skill, excitement, and plenty of action.

It is a fact, up-coming spot shared by all on Channel 2, at 7:00 p.m., every Sunday.

In my estimation, roller derby is at its peak and when it smashes through to the larger majority of the public, it'll make an impression (I'm not stating what kind of impression, but it'll make one).

Too bad roller derby hasn't been adapted by the, supposedly, well-informed dictionaries. You can find hockey, roller coaster, and even Kentucky Derby, but no roller derby. I sort of resent this; how long does this sport have to be in existence before it is accepted.

To me, roller derby is on my top list along with football, boxing, basketball, etc.

title of the ruler of Russia before the revolution called?"

Ron: "Czar."

Dr. Braverman: "Fine, then what are his children called?"

Ron: "Czardines."

Triumph . . .

Told you they could do it. . . . Before the Easter holidays our determined baseball team smashed the high-hatted MPC Lobos 5-0 to show what they are capable of. Sure, everyone noticed when the team loses, but it is more important to notice when they put out a good effort and emerge as victors. Let's give them more support.

Good Advice . . .

If there are people around who can't make up their minds whether to buy a Corvair or a Falcon, the best person to contact is Bob Temmermand, who knows all the facts. He gave a very impressive talk on it in Speech 1A and I feel he should be consulted before making the final step.

Down the Hatch . . .

Well, people, no carnival this year . . . that's what I said. Many students who were looking forward to that fun-filled evening are demanding an answer. Some explain it as lack of enthusiasm and lack of publicity . . . well, that seems kind of funny since there never was any formal push to get the ball rolling. No exact date was ever decided upon. This should have been an event to really highlight the season because it is the type of affair that all students can take part in. . . . Last year everyone had a ball entertaining themselves at the booths playing games, devouring pizza, winning cakes and teddy bears.

Students Win Scholarships

William Stretch, Hartnell sophomore, is one of four Salinas school students awarded scholarships by the Salinas World Affairs Council to attend the three-day 14th annual conference of the World Affairs Council of Northern California in Asilomar May 6-7-8.

Other recipients are three high school seniors, Richard Perkins, North Salinas High; Stuart Du-four, Jr., Salinas High; and Maurine Husser, Palma High.

Faculty members of the respective schools selected the students on the basis of high scholastic standing and interest in foreign affairs.

Speakers Named

Guided under the theme, "Competitive Co-existence—The Dilemma of the 60's," this year's conference, chaired by University of California President Emeritus, Robert Gordon Sproul, promises to be an enlightening affair.

Honored guests will be the King and Queen of Nepal. Other speakers include Richard Hottelet, CBS foreign correspondent; Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation; and Walter Rostow from the Center for International Studies, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Many members of the Salinas World Affairs Council are expected to participate in the conference. Official delegate will be Council President Lorenz A. Newton, business instructor at Hartnell.

WAA Tourney Held at Modesto

The women's tennis team left this morning for Modesto Junior College, the site of the two-day annual tennis tourney which will bring together the freshman and sophomore woman racket squads from colleges throughout the state.

The six Hartnell players, Nancy Willis, Beth Juri, Karen Allen, Marie Kloster, Ann Salmon and Mary Kitchel, were elected on the basis of their standings on the recent Women's Athletic Association tennis ladder tournament.

A coming WAA activity is the hosting of a high school sports days. On May 7 senior girls from six high schools in the Hartnell district will be orientated to the WAA activities as well as take part in various sports. This activity is to be conducted as a means to recruit members for next fall.

A further club activity is participating in the Monterey Peninsula College hosted coed playday

New Rodeo Club to Sponsor Barbecue at Posse Grounds

The Rodeo Club is meeting for a barbecue at the posse grounds April 27 for the purpose of discussing the Poly Royal Trip coming up April 29 and 30.

The barbecue will be limited to members and their guests and advisers. Everybody will bring his own steaks to cook and dishware.

The club plans to have activities going on during the summer though definite plans have not been made yet.

Newly-elected officers for the club are Leo Bond, president; Scott Jeffers, vice president; Connie Sauret, secretary; Beth Juri, treasurer; Norman Rianda, ICC representative; and Meryl Davis, publicity director. The advisers for the club are Mr. Lyman Fowler, Mr. John Schaub, and Mr. Clifford Swanson.

After the 45 members present elected officers, Leo Bond selected five members to write the club's constitution. The committee consists of Don Fahey, Sandy Cooper, Ron Thompson, Judy Lucas, Bob Grossman, and the officers.

Some of the club plans are to participate in western activities such as rodeos, horseback riding, and dancing.

Hart Publicity Gets Advice

A report from the Publicity Workshop of the California Junior College Student Government Association convention held at the Hotel del Coronado at San Diego March 31, April 1 and 2 was given by Judy Wong, Commissioner of Public Relations at Tuesday's regular council meeting.

Miss Wong mentioned several suggestions that might aid the publicity and publications department at Hartnell. She stressed that the college should make use of more original and different ways of publicizing events through the use of stunts, social calendars, intercom system, local radio and TV stations, etc.

Miss Wong suggested that the title of Commissioner of Public Relations be changed to Commissioner of Publicity; this person would be in charge of launching all the publicity on campus, to prevent the "lack of good publicity" excuse used when an event is postponed or unsuccessful. He would still carry out his off-campus publicity duties.

As to publications, Miss Wong mentioned that a definite recruitment program would be helpful in getting an adequate newspaper staff each year. A good way of recruiting, she added, was to have "Journalism Day," in May 14. Signup sheets will be posted in the women's gym for those interested in various sports including golf, tennis, archery, bowling, volleyball, and badminton.

S.F. Trip Set

A busload of Alpha Gamma Sigma members and California History class students will tour educational and historical institutions in the San Francisco Bay area May 5.

The itinerary includes the morning tour of the University of California's Bancroft Library and the campanile. The afternoon will be spent visiting the San Francisco Stock Exchange, Wells Fargo Bank history room, the California Society of Pioneers, and Grace Cathedral. An always thrilling experience will be the riding of the cable car to the Fairmont Hotel where dinner will be served in the unusual atmosphere of the Papagayo Room.

which journalism students from surrounding high schools would be invited to take part in writing contests, panel discussions and workshops dealing with journalism. Additional credits should be given to newspaper writers as much of their work must be done outside of class hours.

Handley Attends Dean Meeting

Dean of Women, Miss June Handley, attended the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors convention in Philadelphia, held April 6 to 10.

At the Philadelphia convention were outstanding speakers who included Bruce Catton, author, historian, and editor of "American Heritage," and Ruth Strang, Columbia University author.

Theme for the convention was, "Directions—Intellectual, Professional, and Personal."

Popping corn contains water. When the water gets hot enough, the kernel explodes. Result: popcorn.

Diamondmen Defeat Lobos In First Conference Victory

Hartnell's hard-luck horsehiders finally won themselves a ticket to Winsville a week ago Friday when they caught their hairy neighbors, the MPC Lobos, off base for a 5 to 0 score.

Burden of the win rested with Panther pitcher Vernon Kemp, who allowed only three hits and one walk to keep the wolves caged through the afternoon at the Panther diamond.

Most of the action unreel in the second inning as the Harts struck hard at MPC pitcher Contininas and garnered all their runs at once. Two runs were driven in by Duane Schneider's single. Don Blanton topped the action by knocking in another counter.

Kontrollable Kemp kept the Lobos hitless until the fifth inning. From that time on, the Panther and Lobo pitcher James carried on a duel from the mound. Kemp had good support as his teammates went error-free through the nine frames.

HARTNELL PUTTMAN NAILS SECOND AT GOLF MATCH

Panther golfer John Whitlock won a measure of fame for himself last Saturday by nabbing second place in his flight of the Western Intercollegiate Golf Tourney played at Santa Cruz's Pasatiempo course.

Entered in the second level of play, with a handicap of 10, Whitlock came through three days of concentrated competition with a net score of 212. He finished the competition Saturday with a low net of 72.

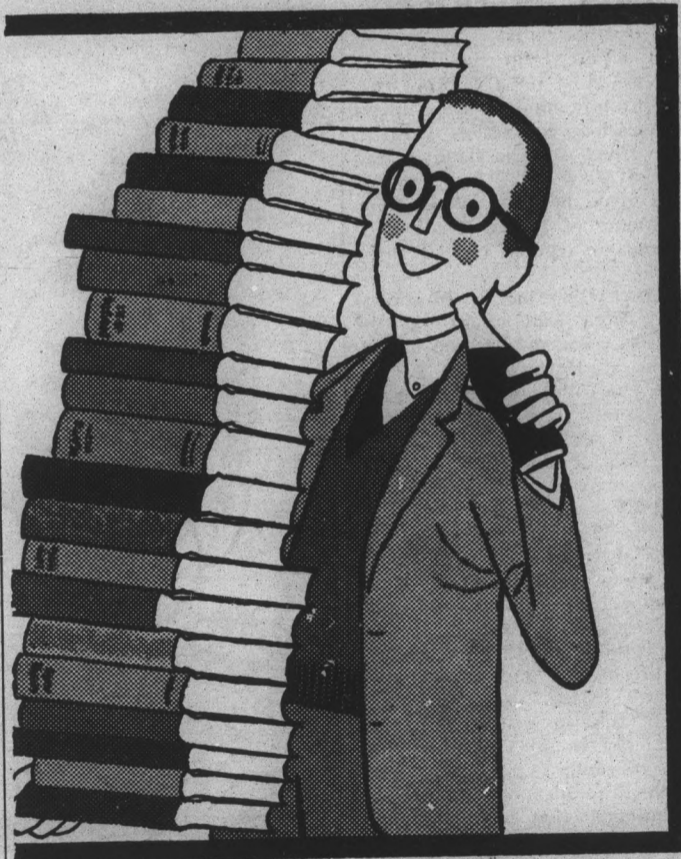

Cabrillo Is Victor

Carrying off first place in Whitlock's flight was Andy Gustafson of Cabrillo College who wound up with a net score of 207.

Additional entries from Hartnell were Dave Hiura and Fred Crumme shooting in the first flight where the competition was intense.

Topping the wide field of golfers from western schools was San Diego Stater Ron O'Conner with a 294 total for 72 holes with no handicap deducted.

Small Schools To Meet on Track

The Hartnell field will be a magnet for runners, throwers and jumpers tomorrow as the home school plays host to eight others in the twelfth annual Hartnell Small College Track Meet.

Sprint heats and field events will begin at 1 p.m.

Strictly invitational for junior colleges with fewer than 1,000 daytime enrollment, the meet will draw more than 200 participants to strive for better times and vie for a dozen trophies contributed by Salinas merchants. Hartnellites have seen the donated trophies on display at the library entrance this week.

Schools taking part in the complete schedule of events are Coalinga, Foothill, Hancock, Monterey Peninsula College, Reedley, San Benito, Taft and Vallejo.

MPC Is Favored

Speaking of Panther chances against this crowd of young athletes, Coach Ad Adams declared that "we have a chance to come in second or third. As I see it, MPC should grab off the top scores. They have too much depth and team balance for us—particularly in the sprints and broadjump. Also they have good shotputters and discus throwers."

The local Lobos aren't the only contestants to shine in the grunt department. Coalinga also exhibits some powerful work in the shot and disc events, according to Coach Adams.

Hart Milers Strong

Several fast Panthers do stand a good chance of running away with the bacon in the eyes of Adams. "We might prove strongest in the half-mile where Bruce Logan should be out in front."

"Some of the other events will also give us possible wins," the headman continued. "Stuart Friend has a chance in the two-mile and Gerry Slibsager should shine in the mile—although Taft has a boy named Bowman who has run the mile in 4:30, fast for junior colleges."

Competition Tough

Polevaulter Bill Allen, who has carried the maroon and gold to victory in several meets, will have his hands full tomorrow with a Coalinga man named Brinkworth who has soared 13 feet.

Whoever proves fleetest or strongest, the afternoon will see the cream of junior college competition.
